SUMMARY OF PURPOSE/DESCRIPTION OR PROJECT-ACTIVITY: To have a fun-filled day for the Cub Scouts and to acquaint them with the bible and bring them to a closer/better understanding of their religion.
A. Planning

1. A Boy Scout Retreat is held on a yearly basis by the Catholic Committee and it was felt that a similar program was necessary for the Cub Scout age boy. The idea first surfaced about 4-5 years ago and was finally given the go ahead in the spring of '88.

2. The program had the unanimous consent of the Catholic Committee on Scouting, Archdiocese of Washington.

3. Phyllis Denit and Dottie Strong were appointed as the co-chairmen.

The initial planning and research were done by Dottie & Phyllis. The overall theme for the day was decided to be "The Miracles of Water" and the program was planned around 4 different stories from the bible that dealt with water. Those stories were:

Noah and the Flood
Moses - the parting of the Red Sea
The miraculous catch of fish
Jesus and John the Baptist

Each group would do four different activities. The Cub Scouts would move from one group to the other - round robin style.

Staff correspondence - attachment B.

Site accommodations - this item had been predetermined when the project was first discussed several years ago. Phyllis Denit was asked to please make all necessary arrangements with the German Orphan Home since she had the contacts for this facility. Millie Kriemelmeyer, who also served on staff for this project was able to help Phyllis make all the necessary arrangements very quickly and easily since Millies' husband sits on the board of directors for this facility. The contract and facilities map is attached. Attachment C.

Food arrangements - It was decided that the Cub Scouts and their leaders would bring a bag lunch and that the committee would provide hot chocolate in the morning and hot chocolate and juice for lunch. Ray April of the Catholic Committee would be in charge of the drinks for the day and the cleanup at the end of the day.

Cleanup - The German Orphan Home would provide cleanup services if they were needed for a nominal fee.
B. Implementation/Execution of Activity

1. A meeting was scheduled with Archbishop Hickey and Catholic Scout leaders on September 14, 1988. A draft flyer was presented at this meeting to acquaint the leaders with the impending activity. A few comments were made to improve the flyer. Someone suggested we change the name to read "Cub and Webelos Scouts" but since Webelos are Cub Scouts we decided to leave the name as it was. This decision was made by Dottie Strong and Phyllis Denit. Attachment D.

Mary McKey of the Office of Youth Ministry at the Pastoral Center was contacted and asked to have the announcement put in the Catholic Standard. The attached article appeared sometime in late October. Attachment E.

Joe Dubee of the NCAC Scout Service Center was contacted and asked to run the flyer in the next issue of the Scouter Digest. Mr. Dubee was good enough to run the entire flyer in the November issue of the Digest. Attachment F.

The original draft flyer was finalized and copies were made at the Pastoral Center by the Office of Youth Ministry. A mailing was sent to all the Catholic sponsored Cub Packs from the Pastoral Center and the flyers were handed out at all the district roundtables, the Council Pow-Wow and at several of the training sessions held within the council before December 3rd. A map giving directions to the German Orphan Home was on the back of the flyer. This same map is used by the council for the Day Camp held at the German Orphan Home so it was familiar to many of the leaders. Attachment G.

2. Registration was handled by Joe Williams. Joe drafted and ran copies of the registration form to be used the morning of December 3rd. Note: Next year a space will be provided for the leaders name and/or phone number & address. Attachment H.

A schedule for the day was provided to each leader with a list of the persons in charge of each station and a list of the activities that would be done during the day. Attachment I.

Pre-opening activities were provided for the boys. The leaders were given a copy of each paper and was told to pickup the number they needed when they stopped to get their name tags. Attachment J.
Since this was to be an event for the Cub Scouts in the Archdiocese of Washington it was decided to get staff from as many of the districts involved as possible. Members of the Catholic Committee were asked to submit names of leaders in their districts that they thought would be interested in helping. The response wasn't the greatest, possibly because it was a new activity and they were wary, and because it was so close to Christmas many people were already overbooked.

The entire day was planned with the same purpose. To have a fun day for the Cub Scouts and to interest them in the bible and their religion. Since it was a "first" we had to feel our way around. From this experience we will be able to set up more firm guidelines for future years.

Each group would do four different activities. The Cub Scouts would move from one group to the other - round robin style.

The first activity of the day would be to read/tell the story pertaining to a particular group. This was to be done on the Cub Scouts' level so he would be sure to understand. After the story, each Cub Scout was given a piece of poster board to draw a poster about the story he had just heard. This gave us four different groups of posters. The posters would be judged and ribbons awarded to the first three winners in each group. The winners would be those posters depicting the best understanding of the story. These winning posters were then used as a "backdrop" for the mass at the close of the day. The boys took the posters home.

At the second, third and fourth activities the stories were told to a new group. A rosary, leather cross book mark and a mobile were made respectively. All but the rosary went home with the boy. The rosaries were donated to the Catholic men in prison through the Pastoral Center.

There was a lunch break between the second and third activities.

Mass was held at the end of the day. Father James Oberle said mass and Janet Pecetteau was recruited to choose the songs and to lead the songs accompanied by her guitar. Attachment K.
C. Evaluation

An evaluation sheet was prepared and handed out to each leader. Everyone was asked to please help us plan for a bigger and better day next year and it was interesting to note that many people asked for a copy of the evaluation form. Copies are attached. Attachment L.

A report was made to the Catholic Committee at its meeting on January 11, 1989. See Attachment M.

TO ALL STAFF MEMBERS FOR OUR NEW ACTIVITY --

CUB SCOUTS' EXPERIENCE WITH JESUS

My apologies for the lateness of these notes. Seems I neglected to figure vacations for other people, meaning longer hours for those of us still working.

Phyllis and I apologize for the lack of planning meetings. If you would please plan to help next year we will already be ahead of the game and can begin planning right after this year's activity for next year. Keep notes so we can add to the program or eliminate things as necessary.

If anyone has an easel or tripod they could bring for displays etc. please do so - we are not allowed to hang anything on the walls.

I am including a sample of the rosary we will be making - some minus the crucifix, since Galleries put them in UPS instead of holding them for me. This will give you some idea of how the rosary will be made. You can put knots between the Hail Marys and the Our Fathers if you like but it is not necessary.

A game will be supplied for each station but if you see that you will not have time to play this game you can let it pass. We would like each of the boys to finish his activity. If there are only 2 or 3 Cub Scouts who have not completed their project, than maybe they can finish it at home. All but the rosaries. They must be left with us so we can get them to the missions. Since this is a first, we will have to feel our way through this day. Just remember, our motto is "DO YOUR BEST" and thats all we can ask of anyone.

PLEASE NOTE - Everyone will be expected to pay the $2.00 fee. This includes all staff, Phyllis and myself will also pay. If anyone has a problem with this please speak to Phyllis or Dottie or Joe Williams who will be doing registration.

Sorry we could not include a copy of the mobile for your inspection but they were a bit too much to send. See attached copy for diagrams. They will be made from wood, old ceiling fan blades, cut out like arks, fishing boats, red sea and water scene.
If staff could please plan to arrive between 8:30 and 9:00 they will have a chance to go over their stations and ask any questions that come up. Everything will be supplied to you and hopefully it will all be self-explanatory.

Thanks again for all your help, smiles and enthusiasm. We look forward to seeing you on December 3rd.

Oops, I almost forgot to mention. Leather will be handled by Millie Kriemelmeyer and Hank Moehring. They are experts in the field. They will have all the leather supplies - you need only be a pair of helping hands for this activity.

Thanks again,

P.S. See attached game suggestions.
CROSSING THE RIVER  -3-

Place a sealed baggie filled with water on the top of a 2 x 4 that is carried on the heads of 3 Cub Scouts. One Cub Scout at the front of the board, one in the middle, and one at the end of the board. The Cub Scout at the end of the board must carefully come out from under the board and move to the front of the board. The first and middle Cub Scout must move carefully backward so as not to spill the baggie. This is to be done 5 times successfully. The group with the fastest time will win. If the baggie falls off the plank, it must be replaced on top of the board before the game can be resumed. If the baggie breaks, a new one must be filled with water, sealed, and placed on top of the plank.

-------------SUGGESTED GAME-------------
FISH IN THE SEA

Equipment required: None.
Numbers involved: Any.
Time required: 15 minutes.

Group:
The sheep sits on the floor in a circle. A gap should be left to allow players in and out of the circle. Each boy in turn is given the name of Cod, Lobster, Crayfish or Herring. The leader then calls out one of these names. The named players leave the circle and run around the outside in a clockwise direction. The leader can then say ‘The tide turns’ and the players must turn and run in the opposite direction—going past the opening in the circle. The leader then calls ‘The tide’s in’ and the players change direction again, and run round to the entrance of the circle, enter and regain their seat... The last boy in is eliminated. This can be hotted up by having two fish out at once.

---------- SUGGESTED GAME ----------
ACTIVITIES

A leather cross will be made by each of the participants. The crosses are already cut out and each Cub Scout will have the opportunity to decorate the cross with leather stamps after he has heard the story pertaining to the station he is presently attending. Hopefully the Cubs will be able to practice on a leather rounder first, which can then be made into a key chain. This item is for the boy to take home.

NOAH'S ARK

with the top cut off this makes a nice fishing boat.

All mobiles will be about this size, easy for the boy to take home and to keep.

A mobile is to be made at each station after the story has been told. Due to the time limit, all holes will be predrilled. We are currently looking for candy molds pertaining to each of the areas so, in the case of the ark, the animals can be painted, strung, and hung from the ark. The same for the fishing boat, but a net will be added to cover the fish. A small piece of wood will be tacked onto the back of the fishing boat to help hold the net in place. The fish will also be tied onto the boat like the animals, to help keep them in place. Since the figures for Jesus and John the Baptist and Moses and the Red Sea are so detailed, these will probably be made from shrink art. They will be made and ready to be strung in advance.

TO ALL STAFF MEMBERS - CUB SCOUTS' EXPERIENCE WITH JESUS

Schedules are attached. Since we never know in the Cubbing program until the last minute exactly how many will show up, we might have to change this schedule a bit. It should be no big deal.

A box for each area will be supplied and ready to go the morning of the event. This box will include everything you need for the day, the leather crosses, poster board, a kit for each rosary, precounted with gimp and a cross in a baggie. Also the kit for the mobile. Hammers, tacks, etc will all be provided.

Each station will have to provide their story on a Cub Scouts level, a great big SMILE and plenty of enthusiasm. Also bring your lunch for the day. Coffee (instant) and tea will be there along with hot chocolate for the boys and yourself if you prefer.

If we have a group of 200, they will be broken down into groups of 50. If the group is smaller than 200, they will be broken down into 4 groups of an even size. Each group will be assigned to a station when they register. Name tags will be given out with the shape to the group they are assigned to; an ark for Noah and the ark, a fishing boat for the Miraculous Catch of Fish, a scoop for John the Baptist, and a red "sea" for Moses. The groups will also be numbered 1,2,3, and 4. The participants will move clockwise 1 to 2, 3 to 4, etc. This information will be in a leaders package and we hope to have a large copy of the schedule posted at each station.

Each time a new group comes to your station, you will tell them the story, they will do the activity assigned to that time slot, and play the game. If you can keep the story to 5-10 minutes it should help. Explain to the Cub Scouts before the story begins that they must listen because they will have to draw a poster, made a cross and a mobile (depending on what time they are with you) with your story in mind. Please be sure to have them put their names and pack numbers on the back of each activity. Magic markers can be used to mark the back of the poster before they begin, a white sticker will be supplied in the leaders kit to stick on the back of the cross and the mobile for identification.
A rubber band for each boy will also be supplied so they can roll their poster to make it easier to carry home.
Leaders coming with the Cub Scouts will be expected to lend an extra pair of hands. Members of the Catholic Committee also plan to be there during the day to help out.

Judging the Posters - this will be taken care of by Phyllis Denit. She will ask some of the adults attending on the 3rd to help her judge the posters and she will supply the criteria. Ribbons will be awarded to as many as possible. All posters will be taken home by the Cub Scouts at the end of the day. The posters used for the backdrop of the altar can be collected after mass.

P.S. See attached roster for staff and supply list.

Location: We need a bit more isolation for the small group activities.

Round Robin: Fine, but the activities went quickly. This left gaps between the activities. I think you could do 3 stations for lunch and 3 for...

ONE STATION PREP. FOR MASS. NEED MORE PREPARATION, PRE-READING STORY.
ONE STATION NATIVITY NEXT YEAR, PULL IN REASON FOR CHRISTMAS.
ADVENT WREATH.
I think the general idea is excellent.

Some suggestions:
A) Program too long - How about 9:30-3:00pm
B) A school may be a better location. The large rooms & 2 or more groups was a little confusing. Sometimes it was very difficult to hear the speakers. Separate room for each group may help.
C) Round Robin idea good. Leader packet should indicate where each group should be at each time.
D) Activities were presented well & appropriate for Cub Scout level.
E) Location

I would be willing to help on staff for next year, depending on location. A commitment level needed. I live in LaPlata, it would not be able to commute for many planning sessions.

I like to do Bible stories because Catholics don't know much about the Bible. I always learned more as a child (about religion) and liked it more at the Non-Catholic Bible Schools in the summer. At Catholic school, all we did was have stressful memorization of the Baltimore Catechism for 8 years. The Non-Catholics had fun learning with songs, games, crafts, and hands-on activities.

The story took 5-10 min.
The craft took 5-10 min.
With each activity, we had 30-45 min for games. I had 4 planned and we did them all each time.

Dear Dottie:

First, please again accept my thanks for inviting us to your retreat. I learned a whole bunch, had fun and made new friends all at the same time! That's a deal that's hard to come by.

I agreed to provide you with my evaluation, but I want it clearly understood that I do so only as a Monday-morning Quarterback. The entire event was very good and achieved its goal of letting the boys have an Experience With Jesus.

The best evaluation came from my son, who stated when we got in the car, "Hey, Dad, that was fun and I met a bunch of really neat guys!"

Here are my comments:

- I thought the idea of tying all the stories into the theme--water--was outstanding, although I must confess I did not guess that was the case. But it was very good, and provided an excellent teaching point which I was able to follow with my son.

- The level of the stories and the projects/crafts was good for the boys. The games were also very popular and especially the game at the John station made a big impact.

- The story presentation at the Fish station was excellent. The use of the story board kept their attention very well.

- Lunch was too long. At least that is one side of that coin. Most Cubs seem to be able to inhale food in about 10 minutes at the outside. In Fairfax County Schools, they are allotted only 25 minutes, so they are used to "fast food". The other side of the coin is, obviously, that they had a good opportunity to burn off some energy. So lunch was just right.

- The Shrinky-dinks didn't work. But I think that would not have been a big deal for the boys. They were more interested in the completed project than in its size. My son probably still doesn't know what the problem is/was.

- From a Leader's standpoint I cannot think of anything to improve upon. I felt comfortable all along, and even being slow on the uptake was able to figure out what was happening.

- The round-robin format was very good. I fully plan on stealing that idea in the future.

- The supplies were adequate. I do think that a little more explanation on the eventual use of the Rosaries would have been helpful. My boy enjoyed doing it but was not too sure why. That may have been my fault, and we did have a good discussion about how that was a real Good Turn.

As noted, all in all it was an excellent day. I am grateful for your help, and look forward to seeing you again.

MEMORANDUM FOR: The Catholic Committee on Scouting Archdiocese of Washington

FROM: Phyllis Denit and Dottie Strong Co-chairmen of A Cub Scouts Experience with Jesus

SUBJECT: Staff critique/evaluation of our activity held December 3rd, 1988

The day went well. We did not have the attendance we had hoped for but the Cub Scouts and leaders that did attend were very enthusiastic. We believe that if we had the full 200 Cub Scouts in attendance we would have been in a bit of trouble. With only two large rooms and an outdoor area to work with, the noise level would have been unbearable for the inside activities. A facility is needed where we will be able to separate the four groups by walls to keep the noise level down.

Six districts were represented with a total of 15 packs. 66 boys were present and 21 adults accompanied them. Everyone, without exception, thought it was a great idea. Most thought the theme for next year should be centered around the real meaning of Christmas. Everyone on staff agreed to help again next year.

The round robin worked quite well. Lunch was a little long and we should have provided some kine of activity to help burn off some steam. Needless to say the boys took care of that themselves.

The activities were well received. Most of the Cub Scouts did not know about the rosary and next year we will explain this activity a bit more in detail.

Dorothy Dean, Frank Rossomondo and Mary Ann Lagimoniere pitched in and were a great help. Lu Dent brought his religious award display and was available to answer any questions about the awards.
The Boy Scouts who participated on staff for the day were a great help. Ray April could not make it so Keith Schenk pitched in and took care of the juice and hot chocolate.

The patches were dynamite. Everyone thought they were beautiful, and they were. The year rocker was used and well received. We know they were a bit expensive but we are going to build this activity up and up, and we know the more patches we buy the cheaper they will be. We suggested to the scouters in the Archdiocese of Virginia that they might want to go in with us on this patch. They were going to bring this up at the committee meeting and let us know.
Some of the mobiles did not turn out quite right so materials to make another one will be mailed to the Cub Scouts who started out in the "Noah" group. Along with this will be a letter to each of the leaders thanking them for attending and asking for any input they might have. We neglected to tell the participants what was to be done with the rosaries so will take care of that when we write the letter. We are also looking for help with a new location. It would be nice if we could get a location closer to the people in Southern Maryland. They really supported the activity and they have the furthest to come.

Letters will be written to the Knights of Columbus to see if they will help with the cost of the program next year. We would like to keep the cost to the Cub Scout as low as possible, but still provide him with a good program. They like to "do" something, not be talked to.

We are looking forward to next year.

PS Dorothy Dean and Frank Rossomondo suggested that next year the Cub Scouts make two rosaries. That way they would be able to take one home.
Frank Rosamondo will pay
